COURAGE: to speak one’s mind by sharing all of one’s heart
Friday, 4th May, London City Mission
COURAGE
“to speak one’s mind by sharing all of one’s heart”
Friday, 4th May, London City Mission, 10am - 3.30pm

A one day event to explore the theme of courage applied to Christian work in schools.

- Jason Royce
  - courage to lead (what does it look like to be a courageous leader?)

- Amy Stock
  - courage to explore (an interactive reflection to explore our own response to God)

- New Generation
  - courage to be (how to equip Christian students to be courageous about living out their faith)

- Rebecca O’Neil
  - courage to share (mentoring children and young people in schools)

Hear fantastic speakers, pray, worship, share ideas and network with others who share a similar heart. Full cost just £14 includes refreshments and lunch. Come at 10am for coffee/10.30am for start of first session.

Venue: London City Mission, 175 Tower Bridge Road, SE1 2AH (closest tube station London Bridge).

BOOK ONLINE, PAY ON THE DAY: www.streamwork.org.uk

STREAM conferences are held twice a year and organised by a group of schools workers from Barnabas in Schools, CRIBS, Family Trust, London City Mission, Scripture Union, Spinnaker, Sutton Schoolswork and schoolswork.co.uk